NEW YORKISMS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

NEW YORK, March 20, 1869. If Mr. George Augustus Sala, author of the recent series of articles entitled "Streets of the World," were appealed to, he would probably bear witness that perhaps no other thoroughare upon this planet was characterized with a greater number of flags, flagstaffs, banners, posts, posters, placards, handbills, barber's poles, awnings, show-cases, gutter-snipes, booths, stalis, walking advertisements, etc., than Broadway. Every corner is decorated with two or three apple or candy stands, and the crossings and sidewalks are monotonously embellished with every known style of adverlisement; for after a while extremes meet, and the very variety becomes menotonous. The Street Commissioners, among other wise conclusions, decided that these obstructions ought to be removed, and have devoted the past weak to putting their resolution into effect. St. Patrick's day gave them a rest, but St, Patrick's day being over, they fell to with great goodwill, and numerous have been the sucounters between them and the owners of stores and the contemplative constabulary force. The storeowners have not, as a rule, been able to see things in the same light as that in which they are viewed by the Commissioners, and do seriously object to the landmarks of ther trade being so summarily disposed of. And I must say, now that those landmarks are removed. Broadway, and such of the few intersecting streets as have yet been ransacked.

removed, Broadway, and such of the few intersecting streets as have yet been ransacked, present rather a bare appearance. Something seems wanting. There is a nakedness about the miss on scene, and the vista up and down the atreet is too barren. The warm hues which the twisted red and white of the barbers' poles and the added bine of the stars and stripes conteired, having vanished, the result is cold and bicak, particularly when we bid fair to realize around the suburbs the six weeks' sledding which the Vermonter's are congratulating themselves over.

Passing along Sixteenth street yesterday siternoon, a little to the west of Fifth Avenue, I beheld two singular institutions within five minutes of one another. One of these was the "Queen of the Gipsies," whose antecedents I am not acquainted with, but who seems to be a sort of glorified "Crazy Norah," indigenous to New York. She is a tall woman, with small, bead like eyes, leng straight hair, and a costume in which crimson-violet and gold braid were very conspicuous. Not bearing in her hands either a tamborine or a guitar, noanalogy can be instituted between her and 'Maritsua," or even "Li Periobole." There was a certain hauteu in her gait as she swept along, followed by a host of awed children, that might have been more in keeping, perhaps, in a street of Madrid br Seville. The other lightlution I mentioned was very different. It was the importation of an English des, being nothing less than a trained bear, accompanied by a man and a pole, under the guidance of whom and which he prepared to dance in a manner worthy of the celebrity of the "Zoo." As this is the first "bear" seen out of Wall street for menty years perhaps the subject deserves a passing remark.

The velocipede manis will in all probability

The velocipede mania will in all probability be a short-lived mania, but while it lasts it is very flerce. In all directions you see velocipede be a short-lived mania, but while it lasts it is very flerce. In all directions you see velocipede advertisements. Pa ents stare at you from the wind was, and crowds with a your first endeavers at the school waere you book yourshins. The schools charge flity cents for an nour's ride, and all of them are crowded. It often happens that a business man who can spare half an hour or sn hour form his business will slip around to one of these schools, which stand conveniently near, in the neighborhood of the City Hall Park, and indulge with bidien or exercise as a spur to exercise of a bivatvular kind. I hardly think that base-ballists will stand much of a stow this season. The rush to buy velocipedes is very great indeed, and as yet no prospect of a steedy diminution is neld out. I was speaking only last evening with a gentleman who has a celebrity in private circles for his gymnastic accomplishments, and who was newalling that, upon giving orders that morning for a $150 machine, he was informed that, it not being posstible with the present number of hands to turn out more than fifteen per week, he need not expect to have his order completed before, at least, the 1st of June.

An interesting discovery was made, on Thursday at a rn iou, of twelve large boxes of nitrogly cerine stowed away under the wharf at Whitehall street. If the laws are more clear glycerine stowed away under the wharf at Whitehall street. If the laws are more clear and deficite on any one point than on another, that point relates to the stowing of such articles About enough was found dashing against the naves to have caused a Vesuvius-like destrucition of life and properly now half of New York and the whole of Brocklys. When first found the boat was entered to the hore the hore of t have improved. A savage politeness is the characteristic of all three of them, and the book of eliquette from which they have studied is evidently written by a rufflan.

As was expected, Captain Young, the Chief of the New York Detectives, and the Poitce Commissioners are not able to view his transactions with the Maryland Bank in the same light, and the Board refuses to accept his resignation, Young knows what he is about, and can affind to laugh at the set of alily resolutions which to laugh at the set of silly resolutions which they have been pleased to pass, censuring his conduct in refusing to render an account of all conduct in refusing to render an account of all reward moneys that have passed through his hands since the beginning of the year. This imbroglio, however, leaves us without a chiefof detectives; for Young's resignation not having been accepted, and he not having been discharged, no one has yet been appointed in his place, and he having sent his resignation in, he of course refuses to serve further in his late capacity. And so the matter stands.

Next Wednesday is expected to furnish satisfactory news as to how far the investigation into the cases of the passengers on board the ship James Foster, Jr., lately arrived at this port, has been conducted. Now that the captain has died, a mandlin and wicked sympathy is beginning to be excited in his behalf. Commisseration is taken clean away from the wretched passengers who were made the sub-wretched passengers who were made the sub-jects of his brutaility, and transferred to the dead inhuman captain. I for one could never see why a man's death ought to be a reason for the truth not being spoken of him; and to say of the late Captain Armstrong, of the snip James Foster, Jr., who died of the fever he was instrumental in promoting, that he was—if the accounts of his passengers be strictly true—one of the most heartless and cold-blooded torturers of whom we have any account, in any age, is the unvarnished truth; and were I to raise his tombstone, it should be one that would tell no lies.

DETECTING

COUNTERFEITER

HELMBOLD'S BUCHU

HOW TO DETECT IT.

The Gennine has my Name and Address Blown in Three Sides of Bottle;

THE COUNTERFEIT HAS NOT.

Uunquestionably the business has been carried on for some time, and to a considerable extent, and the selling has been managed by experts, who depend upon the external appearance, without regard to the quality or contents of the bottle.

My conclusion is that the expensive wrappers were stolen, or a transfer of the original plate taken by a dishonest engraver.

I have been in consultation with the leading Glass Works in regard to it, and they assert that they have never made any bottles for any one the pattern of the spurious. I have purchased all my bottles, for twelve years, from Messrs. SHEETS & DUFFY, Kensington Glass Works, and each and every bottle has the following plainly blown on three sides of the bottle:-"H. T. HELMBOLD'S GENUINE FLUID EXTRACTS; PHILADELPHIA." THE SPU-RIOUS HAS NOT, and in the genuine the lettering can be felt without removing the wrap per, in a majority of cases.

My name and address are not blown in the spurious, and I have never used any bottle without this precaution.

Thus far it is evident that the SPURIOUS has emanated from SMALL JOBBERS or PED-DLERS; of various preparations, who, when questioned, reply "that they never take bills or receipts when procuring their supplies," which causes difficulty in tracing.

f. My Buchu is no patent medicine or secret concoction, but a superior preparation, a concentrated fluid extract of the (Diosma Cremata) Buchu Leaves.

Any druggist, physician, or patient that is at all familiar with the properties of the Bucau Leaves would have no difficulty in DETECTING MOURNING GOODS. THE FRAUD, as not the slightest regard has been paid to the contents of the spurious bottles, but simply a colored liquid with little taste or odor.

A very important item to druggists is, that quite a quantity of the spurious has already fermented, and such a result has never occurred to the genuine. I cannot imagine what impression the afflicted may have formed of me, who have been so unfortunate as to have purchased the spurious, or the lujury done my name and business by this counterfeit, which possesses no medicinal virtues whatever. But my friendly refations and extensive ,acquaintance in the trade, and the precautions I have taken, will prevent its recurrence. I will greatly appreciate it if the druggists will examine their stock at once and report. I WILL PROTECT SUCH FROM LOSS, AND WILL CAUSE TO BE ARRESTED DEALERS FOUND WITH THE SPURIOUS FROM THIS

Any information derived leading to detec tion will be thankfully received, and receive a reward of ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS.
